Public transportation

The plan of Cité Universitaire indicates the public transportation available to get to Maison de Norvege. The closest are the RER B stations Gentilly or Cité Universitaire: <https://www.ciup.fr/wp-content/uploads/2023/07/PLAN-2023.pdf>

The plan of metro, RER and tram lines : <https://www.ratp.fr/en/plans>

You can use <https://www.ratp.fr/en> to get your way in Paris. However, buses are neither very quick nor very punctual, you might rather want to use the metro or the RER which are frequent, safe and efficient. So efficient that early in the morning (7h to 9h) and in the afternoon (17h to 19h) they are overcrowded, many use public transportation for going to (and back from) work.

For travelling in Paris and Ile-de-France, except the airports, there are two kinds of tickets:

- Metro – Train – RER: since the 1st of January, there is only one ticket for all destinations in Paris or anywhere in Ile-de-France. No more 1 to 5 zones as before, the new ticket is much easier to use. It costs 2,5 euros. You can buy either cardboard tickets or charge several tickets on a Navigo Easy card. It is also possible to use them on your phone, but you might not want to take this option, it seems it doesn't work very well yet. You can use one ticket during 2 hours, switching between different metro lines, RER or trains but without getting out of the railway network. Once to get out of the railway network, you need to use another ticket.
- Bus – Tramway: for all above-ground transportation, except buses going to airports (Orlybus and Roissybus). It costs 2 euros and you can charge several on a Navigo Easy card.

For Orly and Charles de Gaulle airports, there is a special ticket to use the railway network. It costs 13 euros and you can also charge it on a Navigo Easy card.

All info about tickets: <https://www.ratp.fr/titres-et-tarifs/ticket-paris-region-aeroports>

You can also take a bus to go to the airports, which are an exception compared to the other buses in Paris because they are as efficient as the RER. However, you cannot use the same ticket as for the railway. For these, you can buy your ticket in the bus (from the driver), or at your airport (dedicated purchase terminal).

Info about buses to Orly or Charles de Gaulle:

<https://www.parisaeroport.fr/en/passengers/access/paris-orly/public-transport/orlybus>

<https://www.parisaeroport.fr/en/passengers/access/paris-charles-de-gaulle/public-transport/roissybus>

For Paris Beauvais, you can take Aerobus line A03 to Paris La Defense, then take the metro/RER to Maison de Norvège: <https://www.aeroportparisbeauvais.com/en/access-parking/reach-the-airport-by-shuttle-bus-or-train>

<https://www.aerobus.fr/d/aeroport-paris-beauvais-paris-la-defense?departureArea=FRPARPB&arrivalStation=FRPARLDE&retailerPartnerNumber=807197&locale=en>

The ticket costs 16,90 euro.
